INSTRUCTORS:

	Denise Brown. Program Manager for NDLTAP. Denise has been employed with the North Dakota Local Technical Assistance Program (NDLTAP) for 17 years. She serves on several national committees and has attended several trainings and train-the-trainer sessions on roadway safety. Denise’s passion for roadway safety focuses on getting everyone home safely every day.		Bryon Fuchs. NDLTAP Program Director with twenty- five plus years of transportation experience. He previously worked for NDDOT and was instrumental in the Load Road Safety Plans developed for the Counties, Urban areas, and the Tribal Governments. He has presented on local road safety for national webinars.
	Molly Schoen, an advocate for safety and security, currently serves as the Northwest Regional Coordinator for Vision Zero, a position she assumed earlier this year. Schoen’s commitment to public safety stems from her background as a 911 dispatcher for six years in Ward County, where she played a crucial role in emergency response and assistance. In her role as a regional coordinator for Vision Zero, Schoen is dedicated to advancing the principles of Vision Zero and eliminating all traffic fatalities and serious injuries. Drawing from her experience in emergency services, she brings a unique perspective to the team, emphasizing the importance of proactive measures in achieving the Vision Zero goals.		Theresa Liebsch is the Vision Zero Coordinator for the Southwest region of North Dakota and is housed at the Burleigh County Sheriff’s Department in Bismarck. Theresa graduated with a degree in Communications from the University of Mary in 2020. She is a member of the Occupant Protection Committee and works with schools and communities to increase traffic safety education within her region through observational studies, data collection, and informative activities. Through events, education, and networking.

Target Audience: motor-grader operators, road supervisors, county commissioners signing personnel, maintenance personnel, contractor, consulting engineers, project managers and safety officers.
